RUSSEL B. TESCHON, ESQ.

Forging a prominent presence both in legal circles and the public sector, Russel B. Teschon, Esq., a partner in Teschon Riccobene & Siss, P.A., is thoroughly versed in the areas of litigation, family law and personal injury. He has been meeting the legal needs of Bergen County residents for almost 30 years.

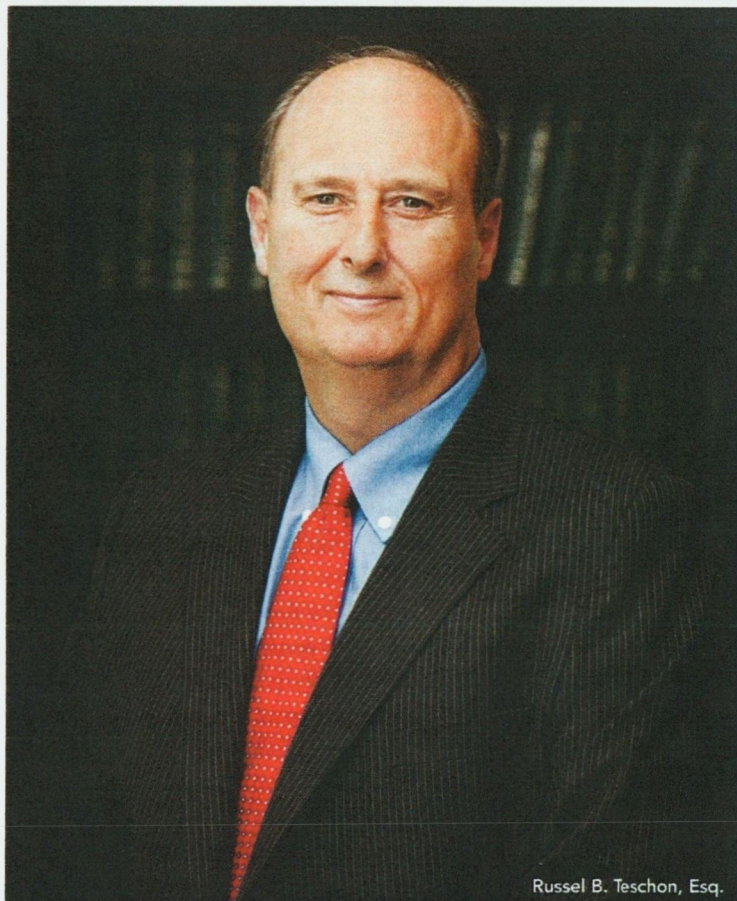

Teschon presently serves as Judge for the townships of both Wyckoff and Glen Rock, while chairing the Panel 16 Bergen County Family Part Early Settlement Panel. He received his Juris Doctorate from Pace University, and pursued graduate studies at Dallas Theological Seminary.

Teschon practices law from a Christian perspective and also represents churches and Christian organizations. He has litigated cases involving constitutional and religious liberty issues.

Previously, Teshon served as an attorney for the Ringwood Zoning Board of Adjustment, as well as Prosecutor for the Borough of North Haledon and the Township of Wyckoff. He also served the public as a member of the District IIA Ethics Committee and chairman of the Panel D IIA Fee Arbitration Committee.

Teschon is listed in Who's Who in American Law and has received an AV Peer Review rating from Martindale-Hubbell.

Teschon, Riccobene & Siss was founded in 1996. Partners include Peter E. Riccobene, who concentrates in commercial financing, real estate and private client services, and Darryl W. Siss, who practices in the areas of residential and commercial real estate, zoning and land use applications, as well as landlord/tenant actions.
